PRODUCTION CHALLENGE: Summer school students at Swish of the Curtain Drama School

Just six days to produce the show

YOUNGSTERS aged from five and 14 will be putting on a stage show within just six days with Swish of the Curtain Drama School.

The children, taking part in the summer school at St Nicholas Church Hall, Hengistbury Head, are learning about stage craft by making their own scenery, costumes and props as well as learning scripts, dances and songs.

Weather permitting, it culminates in an open-air performance in the church grounds of Captain Blackboot's Island on Saturday afternoon at 2pm. Admission free.
